New Global Certificate in P2/Engagement

Fundamentals of P2/Engagement

We are very excited to announce the new IAP2 Global Certificate in P2/Engagement, following two years of development and a global consultation.

Taking the best of stakeholder and engagement training from around the globe, our team has developed a new suite of courses, which can be combined in a variety of ways to create the new five-day certificate programme.

The Fundamentals of P2/Engagement course provides participants with an understanding of the practices, models and framework of meaningful and effective P2/engagement and what participants need to know to do this well. The training explores best practices, and how to design and apply this knowledge to your P2/engagement work.

This course is suitable for practitioners working as a member of a P2/engagement team, contributing to engagement activities.

It is the first part of the five-day Global Certificate in Engagement or can be undertaken by those who just want to cover the basics of P2/engagement.
