New Global Certificate in P2/Engagement

IAP2 Way in Challenging Contexts

We are very excited to announce the new IAP2 Global Certificate in P2/Engagement, following two years of development and a global consultation.

Taking the best of stakeholder and engagement training from around the globe, our team has developed a new suite of courses, which can be combined in a variety of ways to create the new five-day certificate programme.

The IAP2 Way in Challenging Contexts course sets out the underpinning models and frameworks of P2/engagement practice as defined by the IAP2 community in terms of what it is, who is involved, standards of practice, and why it is important to be practiced ethically and effectively. Participants will explore these concepts and models in contexts that are challenging and will gain skills and knowledge to apply to their work.

This course is suitable for practitioners who already have substantial experience in P2/engagement work and are ready to be leading this work with others.

It is the first part of the five-day Global Certificate in P2/Engagement for experienced practitioners or can be undertaken by those at the same level who just want to cover the basics of P2/engagement.
